Do, Re, for Me has enjoyed a long history of summer music camp fun which was established in 2007 on the University of Northwestern-St. Paul. Children experience the Montessori approach of teaching music to young children. The foundations of music include: listening, playing instruments, singing, moving and enjoying patterns of music. Besides the foundations, children will learn stage readiness, prop and program creation, and simple costuming. Finally, they will create in a collaborate effort a mini-musical to share with parents, friends, and family on Friday.
Come, let's start at the very beginning with Do, Re, for Me!

*Children should bring a water bottle.
*On Monday, please bring a clean, white t-shirt to decorate for the final mini-musical on Friday.
